

An Introduction to the NCSSFL-ACTFL Intercultural Can-Do Statements at the Novice Level of Proficiency

Course Description

The Intercultural Communication Can-Do Statements help learners to show their competence in intercultural communication in the target language. Learners can use these statements to set learning goals, document progress and self-assess and reflect on their learning. Just as in the proficiency level Can-Do Statements for language competencies introduced and discussed in the previous modules, the Intercultural Communication competencies are also cumulative in nature.

Developed in partnership by GaDOE World Languages and Georgia Learns.
